Peach Nursery

as a Specialty.

LIST OF PRICES AND VARIETIES.

JAMESBURG, - NEW JERSEY.

P. O. BOX 36.

Handwritten signature

HAVING been in the Peach Nursery business for the past thirty-seven years, I give particular attention to the budding, selecting the most certain bearing, largest, highest colored, productive and most profitable varieties that past experience has proven to be a source of certain profit. In buying trees there are several things to consider, and these apply as well to the man who profits from the sale of the trees as to the man who profits from the fruit grown. These are: First. The price as compared with the quality. Second: Are the trees true to name? Third. Are they HEALTHY? The stock is straight, thrifty and well-rooted. They are grown from pure, natural or (seedling) Tennessee pits. Natural (seedling) Tennessee peach trees commonly attain to the ages of twenty-five to fifty years in healthy bearing condition, and are free from the disease termed The Yellows. So it is plainly perceived that seedlings grown from pits of this kind must insure the trees with more vitality, and consequently longer life and fruitfulness.

GUARANTEE AND AGREEMENT OF SALE.

My intention is to have every tree I sell true to name and free from any disease. If there should be any error or defective trees, upon proper proof of such error, I will replace the trees by same number and size, or refund the amount paid for said defective stock. But will not be further responsible.

Dealers or Fruit Growers receiving a specified statement and refusal of varieties of stock and prices will please return their order as soon as they conveniently can. If I do not receive their order in a reasonable time, I will infer that I can give other purchasers the refusal of stock offered to them.

Extra charge will be made if boxed or baled—for cost of material, etc.

TO MY CUSTOMERS

IT WILL be to the purchaser's advantage to order the stock needed for Fall setting, or delivery of sales, one or two months before they need them. By so doing they can get just the varieties, size, etc., that they will need; whereas, if delayed too long, some of the kinds may be sold or engaged for Spring delivery. Those needing trees for Spring planting will be benefited by engaging the same in the Fall or early Winter. They can obtain a better selection than if delayed until later.

The prices vary according to the number of trees required of certain varieties. Would be pleased if persons desiring to purchase trees would inform me about how many of each variety, size, etc., they require. If I should have a surplus of some of those kinds needed, will make a reduction in the price.

Trees to be shipped are delivered on the P. R. R. station (or in cars) free of charge. Then my responsibility ceases; but in case such fail to reach their destination in proper time, if notified, will assist in tracing and forwarding. Please give shipping directions, so that the stock will go through with a saving in time and expense.

ALL CLAIMS for errors and deductions must be made immediately upon receipt of stock.
